54th Year — No. 13 PUBLISHED WEEKLY AT CARMEL-BY-THE-SEA, CALIFORNIA 93921 March 28, 1968 16 Pages PRICE, 15 CENTS

It's branding time in Carmel Valley. Cowboys, professional and amateur alike, mount their ponies for their journey into the green pastures where they will round up, rope and brand the newborn calves.

Local Pop Festival Requested

Apparently Carmel area youth have seized upon the City Council's pledge of support for a LOCAL POP FESTIVAL, for Monday evening two young men and a young woman appeared before the Cultural Commission to request the use of Sunset Theatre for just such a purpose.

Their plans include a two night stand, May 3-4, featuring 12 bands who will play for a half hour each. Five of these bands already have promised to appear without charge.

The idea came while Joe Shabram and Steve McClaran watched two sea otters play off Carmel Point. "They were so free," Steve said, "and music is a free thing." Neither Steve nor Joe play an instrument, but they appreciate their music.

The group intends to use some of their proceeds for the benefit of the Carmel Valley Youth Organization, and some for Sunset Center itself. An agreement was worked out that the Festival retain 50% of the gate, and the Sunset Center the other half; but anything over $100 of Sunset's share will go back to the youth organization.

4-Quarter School Year Urged

Dr. Hilton M. Bialek proposed last night at the Carmel School Board meeting that a study be made of the feasibility of a four-quarter school year for the school district. He was seconded by Richard T. Wilsdon and all the other board members made favorable comments. The four-quarter system was suggested in a letter to the editor of the PINE CONE from Kathryn C. Hunter in last week's issue.

The four-quarter system was proposed as an alternative to a major building expansion program that would further burden taxpayers with a bond issue and tax override, and as a way of legitimately paying teachers more money.

He further proposed that a commission composed of board members, administrators, teachers and parents be formed to study the problem of housing students.

Steven H. Sassoon agreed that the board should examine the idea. "We don't have seasonal problems," he said. "This is a special district."

Superintendent Dr. Harris A. Taylor remarked that this is a "great vacation town," that there might be problems if a child were to draw a vacation not fitting in with parents' plans.

Board president Clayton B. Neill Jr. countered that "I know a great many people who would prefer winter vacations, whose business keeps them here during the summer."

Dr. R. E. Newton commented that it was a most constructive suggestion that had merit.

Falge Presents Master Plan To Cultural Commission

Monday evening Commissioner Frank Falge presented the Carmel Cultural Commission with his "ideas for a Master Plan for Sunset Center."

Highlights of his plans included:

. . . the purchase of new auditorium seats, replacing the balcony chairs with the better of the downstairs ones.

. . . eliminate school terminology such as cafeteria, gym, etc. with appropriate Spanish names.

. . . relocate the offices on the upper level to make room for action activities.

. . . accept an architectural and decorative study to dress up the foyer.

. . . erase "institutionalized" appearances.

Falge also pointed out that the hike in the hostelry tax will bring into the Sunset Improvement Fund an additional $35,000 a year.

His recommendation was issued all committees of the Cultural Commission for study and action.

The Commission also heard from a representative of the American Seating Company and discussed the possibility of "a good chair" for about $55 each. Sunset Manager Cole Weston was emphatic in his recommendation that seats costing about $80 each be installed. These seats would be plush with arched backs, and would cost a total of about $47,000. However, the commission, in general, felt that the theatre didn't need to spend that much to get a good chair.

The seating specialist was asked to review what was available in a "good seat" in the $40-50 price range.

The Commission received a letter from Pat R. Carey requesting space at Sunset to establish a Graphic Arts Center. Many well known artists were contacted, according to the letter, and promised their interest in using such a facility. The Commission was interested in this proposal. Commissioner James Pruitt was assigned to study whether the floors at Sunset would support the heavy equipment needed to set up the Graphic Arts Center.

Sunset Theatre was given to the Citizens Committee for the night (7:30) of April 4 for their Meet the Candidates night.

Falge recommended that consideration be given to an Art Festival and Auction. This would be an auction to raise money for the improvement of Sunset Center.

Candidates' Night

The Carmel Citizens Committee will host a Meet the Candidates Night at the Sunset Theatre at 7:30, April 4. There will be plenty of time to hear the candidate's views and to ask questions of individual candidates. Plan to attend.

The Pine Cone Recommends:

Today's demands for conformity appear to be encroaching on the individuality of expression Carmel has been noted for. The prevalence of individual expression is probably only second to the beauty of the area in attracting illustrious painters, poets, musicians, and writers to live in and near Carmel. This has also attracted visitors and residents of a caliber who appreciate this cultural environment.

Now, the village architecture is beginning to conform to all the other small towns in the country. We have street lights casting an eerie, unpleasant glare that seems to expose more defects than are seen in daylight. The unique buildings which have given Carmel so much charm are being replaced by architecture which looks as if no more sincere thought was given it than economy and conformity. The attraction of ordinary commercialism's profits has led to the greedy thought that its taxes can defray residence expenses for increased cost of schools, police and fire protection, street maintenance which they spawned.

The ugly thought comes to mind. What is being done to the goose that laid the golden egg?

In my opinion, incumbent Gunnar Norberg is the individualist on the Carmel council representing these who want to retain the character of Carmel as a refined residential community. In my opinion, Mr. Norberg's outspoken expressions are too frequently untactful and he is inconsiderate of other people's time. This alienates the people with whom he must work. Regardless, he is capable and devoted to his work. Who can replace him?

A vote for Gunnar Norberg is recommended.

Incumbent Eben Whittlesey has been a resident of Carmel for 26 years. His past eight years experience on the city council has proven his desire and capability to cope with the weighing of arguments, legislation, decisions and frustrations encountered in the councilman's office. His speaks and acts in a manner that does not alienate which leads to harmonious activity. Mr. Whittlesey is an experienced attorney. His advice and analysis of legal questions have proven valuable.

A vote for Eben Whittlesey is recommended.

Mr. Frank Falge has already shown intense interest in Carmel civic affairs. He frequently attends council meetings, has been a Director of the Carmel Citizens Committee and a Sunset Cultural Commissioner. Carmel is fortunate in having this man's managerial experience available.

A vote for Frank Falge is recommended.

Hugh Bayless does not have any competition for the office of City Clerk. He is dedicated, capable and one of the smartest men in the City Hall - anytime. A vote for Hugh Bayless is recommended.

Incumbent John Rennels has proven himself to be a capable City Treasurer. His life long experience has been in accounting, auditing and financial organizations. I don't know of any reason why his valuable and capable ability should be ignored.

A vote for John Rennels is recommended.

In all due respect to Councilman Herbert Blanks (for whom I have considerable admiration), sincere efforts to control illegal motel growth through new legislation and the recommendations of many who conform to the apparent intent of Ballot Measure No. 1, Ordinance No. 156, let us give Mr. Norberg the chance to prove his claims. The claim is that legislation now on Carmel's books is enforceable to limit illegal operations. Enforce the law or then turn to further legislation in the next one to four years.

A no vote is recommended on the motel ordinance.

Carmel has an economic Frankenstein on its hands in Sunset Center. Belated, sincere effort has been given to harmonizing this situation with Carmel's economy and culture. The City Council and Cultural Commission ideas should be given an opportunity to turn this expensive lemon into lemonade. Let's see what they can do.

A yes vote is recommended on Sunset Rezoning Ordinance No. 158, Ballot Measure No. 2.

Circle Theatre Opens 'A Delicate Balance'

Edward Albee, who wrote "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?", is the author of the Circle Theatre's next attraction, the Pulitzer Prize play, "A DELICATE BALANCE," which opens on Friday, March 29th. It is being produced by the Community Theatre of the Monterey Peninsula, under the direction of Norman C. McPhee, Managing Director.

Gertrude Chappell, a dynamic and sensitive actress well known to local little theatre audiences, will portray "Agnes," the talkative elegant wife of Tobias, who fears that any intruder into her household will upset the "delicate balance" of her family. With this play Mrs. Chappell chalks up her 29th play with the Circle Theatre.

Bob Newcomb plays "Tobias," a role of a cultivated, retired man of wealth, who must make a hard decision about shunting away two people who think their long friendship with him gives them the right to his help in a time of trouble.

"Claire," the wise, drunken a sister-in-law of the puzzled "Tobias" will be portrayed by Gloria Wheeler.

Miss Roberta Thaler of Carmel Valley is making her theatrical debut in "A Delicate Balance," in the highly dramatic role of "Julia."

Mel Isenberger and Betty Hughes (Harry and Edna) will be seen as the lifelong friends and neighbors, whose nameless fear brings them to the household to claim the rights of friendship.

Peg Miner is Stage Manager, and Ruth Jordan Allan is Production Assistant of "A Delicate Balance," which after its opening this Friday, will play on FRIDAY, SATURDAY, AND SUNDAY EVENINGS at 8:30, through May 11th.

Welles Opens

Last Thursday evening Stephen Welles of Welles' Humanist Educational Theatre, introduced himself and his abilities to theatregoers through an hour and a half interpretation of poetry and excerpts from Shakespeare.

"Time Out of Joint" was directed by Ig Heniford and Welles was the cast. He should be commended for an outstanding performance as well as being the guiding force behind the restoration of the Theatre in the Ground, a one-time stale,

Studio Opens 'Wait Until Dark'

The Studio Theatre opens Friday evening with the spine tingling thriller, "Wait Until Dark," by Frederick Knott, author of "Dial 'M' for Murder."

"Wait Until Dark," stars Diane Hall as Susy, the blind young wife terrorized by three desperate criminals. Miss Hall, a career actress, played Alexandra in last season's revival of "The Little Foxes" at the Studio.

The trio bent on recovering a cache of heroin they have traced to Susy's basement apartment are Gresh Ivey, Rick Poe and Don Osborn. Ivey, a lieutenant commander at the Navy Postgraduate School, and Poe, an officer at Fort Ord, have both acted extensively in other parts of the country. Osborn is also director of "Wait Until Dark."

Alison Faul, a student in Marcia Gambrell Hovick's classes in the children's division of the Community Theatre, appears as Gloria, Susy's young friend who comes through in the crisis. Bill Wells in the part of the blind girl's husband draws on previous experience in community and college theatre in Monroe, Louisiana.

Jim Sweeney and Rick Wolf, production assistant and stage manager, also appear briefly as policemen in the final climactic scene. Sweeney was the Mute in "The Fantasticks" two summers ago and Wolf has just finished a role in "Generation."

"Wait Until Dark," written by Frederick Knott with the same chilling suspense as his "Dial 'M' For Murder," will play at the Studio on Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights through early May.

Welles Issues Acting Call

Mr. Stephen Welles, managing director of the Welles' Humanist Educational Theatre, Theatre-In-the-Ground, Forest Theatre, announces an acting call.

Open readings will be held at the theatre, Mountain View at Santa Rita, Carmel, April 1 and April 3, for William Saroyan's, "Hello Out There," and Eugene Ionesco's "Victims Of Duty." All interested male and female performers on the peninsula are encouraged to attend either readings at 8:00 p.m. Interested parties who are unable to attend either session but are still interested in being considered for parts in these productions are encouraged to call the theatre at 624-7580 to secure an appointment for a reading at another time and date. Rehearsals for these shows will begin Sunday April 7th.

Mr. Welles states that now that his one man show, "Time Out Of Joint," is opened the second productions of this repertory company can begin preparation. Opening date for the two one acts is currently scheduled for Friday, May 17th.

Theatre Review

HAPPIEST MILLIONAIRE, lavish Disney musical starring Fred MacMurray and Greer Garson, Wommy Steele in tale about Anthony J. Drexel Biddle of Philadelphia. A bit sweet, colorful just the same.

GUESS WHO'S COMING TO DINNER, Spencer Tracy in his final work and last teaming with Katherine Hepburn. Poitier's performance capped a remarkable year for him.

BONNIE AND CLYDE, dazzling slapstick style treatment of saga about robbing group in the Southwest of the 30's, leaves one entertained but not much wiser about them. Gore and sensualism intrude. But the cast is fine.

THOROUGHLY MODERN MILLIE, Carol Channing steals the show playing an eccentric wealthy widow, but also around to help in this comedy of the 1920's are Julie Andrews, who is delightful, James Fox, Bea Lillie and John Garvin. Some of the songs are from the period.

IN COLD BLOOD, gripping, authentic follow-up to Truman Capote's literate study of two killers who commit a senseless, multiple murder. Richard Brooks' direction draws the performance from newcomers, Robert Blake and Scott Wilson, and evocative detail from settings.

THE GRADUATE, interesting, if not completely compelling, comedy. Dustin Hoffman is excellent in the title role. Anne Bancroft is extremely good as the woman who seduces him and Katharine Ross is attractive as her daughter with whom Hoffman falls in love. The picture argues that all over 30 are dishonest, corrupt and unthinking.

THE INCIDENT, a bold and daring film showing crime in the New York subways. No one wants to become a hero; thus, hoods gain a free hand.

ZORBA THE GREEK. An oldie but goodie with an award winning song. Anthony Quinn was up for an academy award for his performance.

GEORGY GIRL, a pudgy English lass' search for love, even to the point of living with her girl friend's husband. Confusing, but the three of them live together for a while, quite happily.

BULLWHIP GRIFFIN, a Walt Disney special with plenty of slapstick laughter.

WILD RACERS and DEVIL'S ANGELS, a double bill showing the wild youngsters. Bonnie and Clyde were scouts compared to these "misunderstood" children.

THE AMBUSHERS . . . Matt Helm, Dean Martin, does it again. Chocked full with gorgeous women. THE AMBUSHERS is typically in Dean Martin style.

ENDLESS SUMMER . . . Surfers, surfers, surfers. From California to Hawaii youngsters try their hand at riding the surf.

Mi-Careme Bal Masque Is Huge Success

by PHYLLIS JERVEY

There were so many enchanting and exciting costumes at the Bal Masque sponsored by the Alliance Francaise last Thursday, that the choices were indeed difficult to decide. But one thing was sure from the start, the sensation of the evening was one of the judges who was relieved of his duties! This was Francisco "Paco" Ferro, Carmel's own noted artist. His spectacular costume disqualified him for the jury. By popular demand he won the "Judges' Prize" as well as the most original category with his unique costume of Merlin the — Sorcerer! His richly decorated hand woven outfit with extraordinary hat and masque were sensational.

Mrs. Cordtlandt T. Hill took Paco's place on the judges' committee which included Mrs. Leonard Klene and Mr. Ted Durein; they finally came to the following conclusion for the rest of the prize winners:

For the most authentic costumes, Mr. Daniel Robinson and Miss Sandra Stoneman were chosen. Mr. Robinson wore the same "court" or full evening outfit worn by his own great grandfather during Lafayette's time in this country. Miss Sandra Stoneman was exquisite in the real lace gown which had been worn by President Monroe's wife. What could have been more authentic than these genuine 200 year old museum pieces? Mr. Robinson's prize was a magnum of French champagne and Miss Stoneman's the fine Swiss ladies' watch donated by Mr. and Mrs. Henri Corbat, of Carmel, who came as ole matadors.

For the most beautiful costumes, Mrs. Elizabeth Schaefer of Carmel was selected because of her lovely outfit which she had recently purchased in Jordan. The colors were dreamlike.

Mrs. (Marjorie) Frank Lloyd's creation "Su Sombrero" stole the show as far as imaginative headgear. It was her special flair that made this eye-catching huge but graceful hat with enormous handmade (by Marjorie) multi-colored paper flowers the "top" prize-winner.

The most daring and revealing harem costume was Miss Elsie Oliviera's who came mostly in veils. There were many gay outfits such as the ones worn by Mr. and Mrs. Sean Flavin who represented Hippies from the Big Sur? Anyhow they were a riot and really should have been in the "authentic" class. Mrs. Cortland T. Hill who was obligated to withdraw from competition and was drafted as a judge, was truly lovely in her Roman gown with gold ribbons entwined in her coiffure. Her escort was Mr. Douglas Madsen, well known artist from the Big Sur, who represented a Dalmation national and how he could dance!

At the head table were Mrs. Jehanne Bietry Salinger-Carlson, very fetching as a Russian cossack and co-president of the Alliance Mrs. James Hathaway and her husband. Others were the Master of Ceremonies artist Jean Varda of Sausalito who gave forth with many witty remarks, Mrs. Courtland Hill and Mr. Madsen, Mrs. Klene, Mr. Durein, Mr. and Mrs. Ferro and Mrs. Carlson's guests Commandant and Mrs. Joseph P. Leo, and Mrs. Emmy Vann. The chairman of the event was in a Tahaitian costume which suited Madeleine to perfection and formed a lively dancing team with her husband John Dowdakin of Carmel Valley.

A typical American pot luck dinner, complete with barn and loft, candlelight and checked tablecloths, was given last Sunday afternoon for Dr. and Mrs. Jacques Bathiat of Croix, France, parents of (Fafou) Anne-Francoise Bathiat, this year's AFS exchange student to Carmel High School. The Bathiat's are visiting the U. S. for 20 days.

About 60 people attended the gathering at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Walker of Crespi Drive. The Walkers met the Bathiats family in Paris last December while they were there. Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Clemens, co-presidents of the AFS Carmel chapter were present. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sippel, presidents-elect of the chapter, hosted a social hour before the dinner.

Carol Jean Imwalle Weds James Purcell

All Saints' Church was the setting for the two o'clock wedding last Saturday, of Carol Joan Imwalle and James Peter Purcell, the Reverend David Hill officiating.

Carol is the daughter of Mrs. Bereniece Imwalle of Carmel. For her wedding she wore a white gown of filmy, ethereal silk organza with long sleeves and high neckline edged by romantic ruffles. Her heirloom Brussels lace veil fell in a double lace cape and flowed into a long train. She carried an old-fashioned bouquet of pink and white roses and carnations.

Carol's attendants were dressed in long gowns of Burgundy velvet reminiscent of Puritan maids. They wore tiaras of pink and white roses in their hair. A reception was held at the Carmel Woman's Club. Carol was graduated from Santa Catalina School for Girls in 1966 and has just completed her sophomore year at the University of California at Berkeley.

James was graduated from Washington State University and is a film producer in San Francisco where the couple will live after a European honeymoon.

Metamorphosis of a Golfer

John Grissim's father taught him to play golf at Pebble Beach when he was 17 years old. In 1962 his "19th hole" became Carmel. Rather than accept the rest and relaxation generally provided at such a "hole," he changed hats from that of a corporate executive to that of a local business entrepreneur.

The interim years were filled with constant visits to the Monterey Peninsula. His brother-in-law, Edgar Gallwey, has owned a home here for 30 years and joined him as a partner in his venture when John purchased his second shop in the Pine Inn Court.

This was a natural association! John and Edgar were together before as vice president and president of Vacu-Dry Corporation of Oakland, largest low-moisture fruit dehydration company in the world. Those lovely fruit bits in your breakfast cereal are a result of their dehydration process.

John Grissim bought his "19th hole" because it was available! His experience in menswear was solely that of a purchaser. Nevertheless, as contiguous space became available he spread his initial success into a total of three adjoining shops.

His latest addition, just opened, is devoted almost completely to men's leather coats and jackets. This shop is dominated by the head of an African Impala who stares distainfully at those who buy the skins of his brethren. Supplementing his main line of jackets imported from Sweden, John searched all over to find that the finest mens sheepskin-lined outer coats were made by a Carmel Valley artisan, John McAbery. Naturally, he contracted for his entire output for men.

His byline of "a refuge from the usual," his award winning reproduction of a 15th century print used as a signature on ads and packaging and the decor of his shops mark pointedly the quality of his menswear offered.

Letter To Editor

March 22, 1968

Letter to the Editor:
The Carmel Pine Cone,

It was interesting to be a spectator during Radio Station KRML's interview with the candidates for the City Council on Saturday, March 16th. After listening to all of them, it became very apparent that one man stood out above all the others, and that man was Councilman Norberg. In my opinion, he is by far the best informed man running for office, as well as the only one really concerned for the residents of Carmel.

Please ask yourself, "Why is the Carmel Innkeepers' Association so strongly backing the Motel Ordinance in the April election, and who stands to gain by its passage??" Are you, as a resident of Carmel, aware that a "use permit" is valid forever, and transferable? There is nothing wrong with the present ordinance which has served Carmel for the past thirty years. Do you know that at the February Council Meeting, upon the recommendation of the City Attorney, a motion was passed to send the Motel Ordinance back to the Planning Commission for revision? This is the ordinance you are asked to approve at the polls in its imperfect form. I urge a "no" vote.

Remember also that the rezoning of Sunset Center for commercial use will open the door to placing the City of Carmel in competition with our commercial area and local merchants. This is not the function of a city government. Also, if this rezoning ordinance is passed, you will have opened the door for future rezoning of the immediate areas adjacent to Sunset Center which are now residential. Once this ordinance is passed, you will not be able to retract it; and if the City Council, by a majority vote, wishes to rezone the west side of San Carlos or the east side of Mission to multiple dwellings or to commercial you will not be able to stop it short of a referendum. This is just another step toward expanding the commercial area of Carmel. In the proposal there is also provision for building a three-floor garage on Sunset property. Oh, the proponents will tell you this is not in the immediate planning, but, if this rezoning becomes law, plans for a garage can begin the day after the election! I urge that you vote "no"!

Carvel Baldwin

To the Editor:

Nice things happen in Carmel these days: the Circle Theatre haunted by the presence of a benevolent White Rabbit; "Zany's" — a delightful spot — the home of the best in vegetable salads and fruit juices.

What can give no occasion for rejoicing are the new night lights afflicting the former Sunset School. They are hard and white — glaring and unaesthetic — out of keeping with the spirit of this forest town.

A soft light such as would be used in almost any European town would answer the need yet not repel. As it is, frankly, I hate to return home by way of San Carlos street at night. And it used to be a pleasant experience indeed.

Yours,
Flavia Flavin

Last week Gilbert Boyer, Jr. wrote his parents from Greece and concluded with his climb of unexcavated ruins. This week Gilbert went on to Crete and the account follows.)

We made the overnight boat trip to Crete, went to the youth hostel, and then walked around the city. Next day, we walked five miles to the Minoan ruins at Knossus, getting there just before the 1:00 closing time, so we went back along the paved road a way, turning off onto a little dirt road which seemed to lead to a village of five or six houses. We saw an open door on the steep lane going downhill to the right and heard machinery, so Bernt stuck his head inside and we got an invitation to come in and see the olive press at work.

It was a dark smelly room built into the hillside, with a dirt floor, stone walls on one side and mud brick on the others. On the uphill side of the room was a gasoline engine with a stone roller which rolled in a stone bowl, sort of a cross between an old flour mill and an apothecary's mortar and pestle. Two men were working very hard emptying big burlap sacks one at a time into the eight foot wide bowl. The olives were then ground to an oily mash.

We went further down the lane to a small river which we crossed on stones, and walking a little further came to the Minoan Kings summer villa, closed to the public this time of year. However, Bernt and I climbed in by one way where there was a six foot jump. We made it and were able to walk around all alone in the beautifully colored pavilion type of house with several rooms and passages apparently unchanged by the thousands of years.

After a cup of tea back up near the entrance to the main palace, we entered the palace ruins of the fabulous Minoan Kings, the Kings who ruled most of the Mediterranean about 2000 B.C. and had built a beautiful palace in a fantastically beautiful subtropical valley. The famous frescoes emphasize the color blue and some having been restored to show their original colors are very bright. The Kings built this cool and colorful palace that reminded me somewhat of Indian pueblos except that the altitude differences are not as great, and that the Minoans used wooden columns of tree trunks as well as walls of stone and clay.

Adana, Turkey

We've driven by way of Istanbul and Ankara, and are about to start the 1000 mile drive in a couple of days through the arcticly cold and snowy Turkish mountains to Teheran, which makes 5500 miles since we left Germany.

Teheran, Iran

We are stopping here until Christmas. On Christmas Eve we will probably get dressed up for the first time in three months, go to an expensive German restaurant and gorge ourselves. About Christmas, don't send us any presents or we would have to pay customs duties and don't send any money — we would never be able to change checks here — just send love and a kiss as I do to you. "Let us join hands across the rim of space, for the boundaries between keep not with love apace." Merry Christmas and Happy New Year to all!

Travel Tax Comment

"One of the serious and valid criticisms of the Soviet regime is the lack of freedom for Russians to travel abroad without government approval. How far the United States of America has come miserably down the same objectionable trail of government control is exemplified by the current consideration of travel taxes and restrictions on visits outside this hemisphere."

Your article on Felix Greene's movie on Vietnam is a unique piece of journalism! It is as if Robert Welch were to write a criticism of Chief Justice Warren . . . or perhaps you are not aware of The Integrity and calibre of HUMAN EVENTS.

PROTEST OF YOUTH, woodcut by German artist Reinhard Schmidhagen (1914-45) now hanging in the Auditorium of the Monterey Institute of Foreign Studies. Even before World War II, young people were protesting, but in a much different manner than today. The Exhibit is open to the public and is as exciting as any we have seen!

Thought Provoking Exhibit At Institute

The Monterey Institute of Foreign Studies is currently showing an exciting, amazing exhibit of woodcuts by Reinhard Schmidhagen (1914-1945), a young German with whom Chancellor Samson Knoll became acquainted during World War II.

The depth and emotion this artist was able to capture during his short lifespan is incredible.

His woodcuts reflect the pain and misery of the German people even before Hitler began his rampage, evidenced by his work "Man's Guiding Spirit," hanging in the Institute auditorium. It shows Man, guided by the Spirit who is the essence of his own humanity, conquering the forces that oppose him and abandoned by his Spirit as, in the pride of victory, he mocks at the one who has watched over him from the moment of his birth. As he sinks into deepest despair, he is given a friend the companion with whom he can set out on a new beginning. It is as if Reinhard has a glimpse into our own present.

He looked into the future with eyes that foresaw all the horrors of the war that was to come.

He depicted through a series of woodcuts the terror and agony of the inhabitants of Guernica when it was bombed by the German Luftwaffe during the Spanish Civil War.

Genthe At Carmel Museum

An unusual new exhibition is now open at the CARMEL MUSEUM OF ART, Dolores at 7th Streets: "THE MAGIC LENS OF DOCTOR GENTHE (gen-te)". Photographs and paintings done by artists who posed for him will be shown until June.

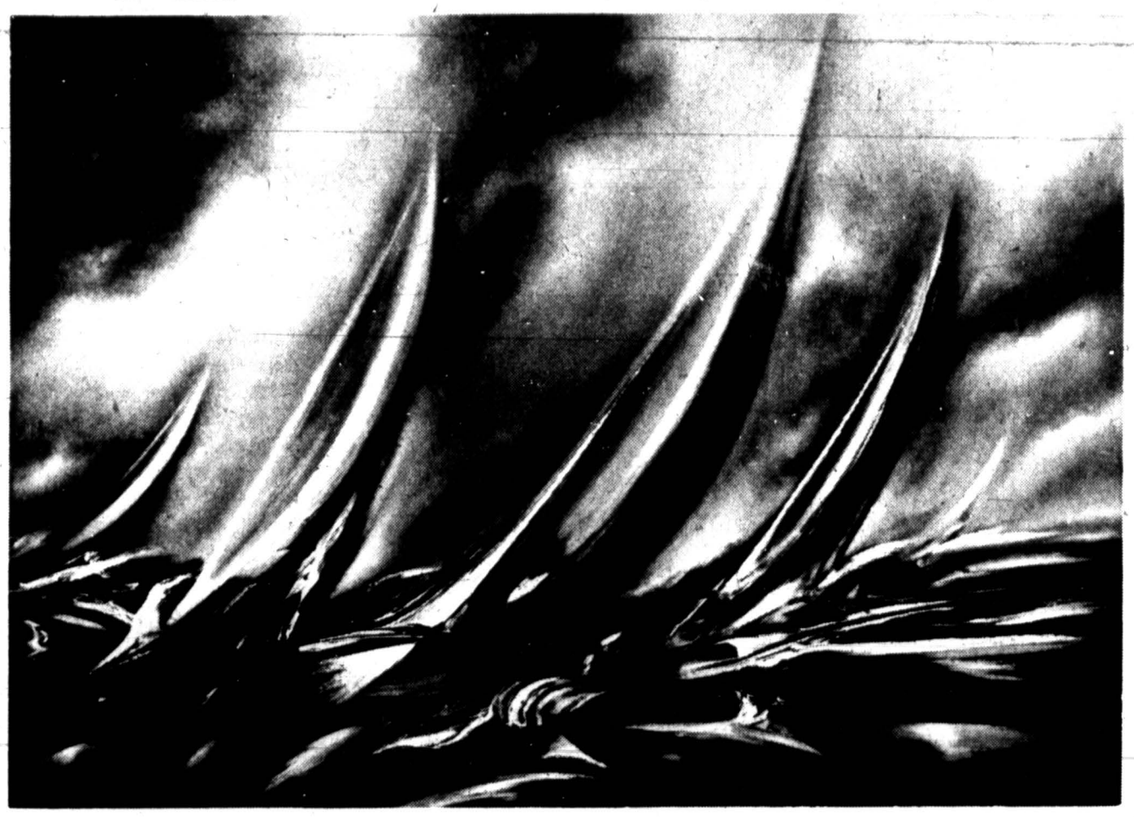
Dr. Arnold Genthe was a brilliant German who came to San Francisco in 1895. He became famous as a society portrait photographer in that city, and in New York where he lived from 1911 until his death in 1942. However, the Carmel Museum of Art exhibition embraces a far more important aspect of his work: experimental and documentary photography.

Genthe was one of the first men to take "candid camera shots" of San Francisco's Chinatown before the 1906 fire destroyed it. His film fortunately was saved from damage, and is one of the few pictorial records of that early San Francisco history. During the 1906 holocaust he also took candid shots with the only available camera, a tiny box Kodak. These pictures are not only historically valuable, but also artistically superb. From 1902 until 1911 Dr. Genthe maintained a vacation home in Carmel, where he did some of the earliest experimentation with color film. His Lumiere autochromes were the first colored photographs to be reproduced in an American magazine.

Graphic Art At MP Museum

At the Monterey Peninsula of Art on Lincoln Street south of Ocean is being shown an exhibit of some of the great graphic artists from the 16th Century to the present.

Rembrandt etchings, engravings by Durer, works by Hogarth, colored lithographs by Toulouse-Lautrec, as well as the more modern works of Dufy, Mary Cassatt, Whistler, Chagall, Roualt, Matisse and Picasso are being loaned by an anonymous Peninsula collector until March 31. The museum is open daily to the public from 11 to 5 p.m.



Fine Art At Laky Gallery

In the recently enlarged, spacious Laky Galleries on San Carlos St. between Fifth and Sixth, one is able to study the paintings shown there at a comfortable distance and in restful and quiet surroundings.

The works of many fine Carmel artists are on exhibit as well as excellent examples of European and Chinese painters.

An exciting impression of plunging horses, done in oil by Zyta Laky, brings to mind the Russia of Dr. Zhivago. George De Groat's boldly done Italian officer is handsome and arresting. Keith Lindberg's figures and landscapes in pure colors and sharp outlines are warm and intense. Venice, seen in a misty light through the eyes of Valenzin is painted with an obvious affection for the subject.

Toma captures the clarity of Bolivian mountain air in his village people, done in strong colors and unworked elegance. Monte has developed a highly individual technique in oil. His backgrounds are done with brush in a very painterly fashion, while the objects or subjects in his paintings are rendered in masterful strokes of the palette knife; and there is a haunting quality in his quasi-surrealism.

The old world realism of Profesio Grossi and the classic Chinese painting of Chang Dai-Chien must not go unmentioned.

A wealth of good taste in art awaits you at Laky Galleries.

Last Week of Keith Lindberg

This is the last week of the Keith Lindberg exhibit at the Carmel Art Association Galleries on Dolores between Fifth and Sixth. It will end on April 3.

This brilliant exhibit by the vigorous painter shows his evolving style. Scenes are for the most part local, some with children.

"Heavy Seas" (36x49) by William Monte Anderson is currently hung along with many other inspiring oils by Monte at the Laky Gallery.

Hospital To Build Cobalt Center

Patients who have had to be sent away from the Monterey Peninsula for cobalt cancer therapy have more than doubled in the past five years, Dr. Ben Dahle, radiologist at Community Hospital, said today.

Under the hospital's expansion plan to get underway this year, provisions are being made so such patients will not have to leave the Peninsula.

From A Librarian's Notebook

By Ruth Galvin Thornburg, City Librarian

A TREASURY OF RUSSIAN SHORT STORIES was translated and edited by Selig Wassner. The editor endeavored to bring to the reader the stories which would give a true picture of life in Russia from 1900 to 1966. The authors are varied but each depicts life as it was at the time the story was written.

And while we are fearlessly speaking of Russia, let us mention THE YOUNG STALIN by Edward Smith. The book covers only the early years of the man who chose the name of Joseph Stalin, but it clearly shows that he was the person he was from his earliest days. The author says that "Even as a young man, he seemed to take a macabre pleasure in betraying persons who trusted him or who tried to assist him. Throughout his 74 years, it is difficult to find one person whom he really befriended. Frequently, those who were helpful or friendly to Stalin before 1917 later found themselves in a tsarist jail; after he became dictator, they sometimes faced his firing squads or landed in one of his concentration camps." Stalin at maturity was only five feet four inches tall, and had one arm which was three inches shorter than the other. We are told that he was loved and well treated by his parents. Neither of these conditions seems to have contributed to his character. He was just naturally mean. Here's a man who deserved to have his body moved outside the Kremlin during the night!

Two new books on Israel are THIS LAND OF ISRAEL by Sedych, and THE SUN STOOD STILL by Macleish. The first book is a travel book, after a fashion, for by means of it you go all around the country. The illustrations are photographs, and very good ones, showing the land and the people. But there is more to this book than land and people, there is history and that always leading back to the Bible and its connection with today.

The second book, THE SUN STOOD STILL, is a first hand account of the Arab-Israeli War of 1967. Once again it must be said that there is more to this book than its primary thesis, for once again there is history. This is a small book filled with information, well written and immediate in its appeal. The author is a commenator for the Westinghouse Broadcasting Company.

Matthew Josephson has several books to his credit, his latest one being INFIDEL IN THE TEMPLE, A MEMOIR OF THE NINETEEN-THIRTIES. This is the background politics, the labor unions, the king-makers and advisors, the depression, the whole bloody bit. Well written and interesting to those who remember the times.

A feinschmecker is someone who knows what good is, and EAT YOURSELF FULL is a cookbook for feinschmeckers. Pennsylvania Dutch cookery in ali its weight-producing goodness will have you aching to cook and eat and forget the dieting! Even the chapter headings are delightful. FROM THE PATCH has the recipes for vegetables and salads, FROM THE BUTCHER'S WAGON are the meat recipes, and SET OUTS are what you think of as buffet dinners or suppapers. There's richness here! Goodness, I almost forget the author, who is Ruth Tyndall, bless her heart! She will die rich because her book is $6.95 but I'm going to buy one for me anyway.

Famous Florentine Fare

Famous Florentine Fare 14

Despite floods, Florence with its medieval walls, palaces and narrow streets is still one of the world's most famous places in which to be entertained in the elegant manner. We can easily get into the right atmosphere without leaving home by first attending "Florence and the Heart of Italy". This is the last in the current narrated explorerama films and will be shown at Sunset Center on April 2. We have chosen a menu which will also do for Easter, Italian Style. As this is more of a feast than just an everyday meal, we'll start without further descriptions . . . you'll see the sights when viewing the color cinema of Italy.

Antipasto
Vermouth with Lemon Twist
Consomme Marsala
Veal Cutlets, Florentine
Saffron Rice Zucchini
Spring Dandelion Salad
Thin Bread Sticks
Chianti
Wine Foam Custard
Expresso Coffee Strega

Classic ingredients in the Italian Antipasto (appetizer) include sardines, anchovies, sliced tomatoes, marinated beets, artichoke hearts, braised cold branches of celery, ripe olives. Each of these is presented in its own bowl. Cruets of red wine vinegar and best olive oil with salt and pepper grinder are ready for the traditional dousing of each antipasto plate.

Consomme Marsala

Two quarts water; 6 T. chicken-seaned stock base; 2 T. shredded parsley; 4 eggs, well beaten; ½ cup grated Romano cheese; 2 T. Marsala wine. Serves 6-8.

Turn water and stock base into large kettle. Simmer 15 minutes. Beat parsley into eggs, then cheese until well blended. Stir into soup. It is normal for egg and cheese to form little strings. Remove from heat, stir in wine. Serve at once.

Veal Cutlets, Florentine

Eight small thin veal cutlets; 1½ T. fresh lemon juice; dash of cracked black pepper; 1½ cups shredded Parmesan cheese; ½ cup flour; 2 eggs, well beaten; 2 T. Marsala wine; 1 t. crushed oregano; ½ cup fine dry bread crumbs; ¾ cup butter; 2 cups sliced fresh mushrooms; ½ lb. prosciutto (thinly sliced smoked Italian ham). Serves 6-8.

Wipe veal cutlets and put in layers in glass baking dish, sprinkling each layer with lemon juice, pepper and ½ cup cheese. Cover and marinate overnight. Dip each cutlet in flour. Beat eggs, wine and ½ t. oregano. Dip cutlets in egg mixture, then into crumbs. Saute in half cup butter over medium high heat until golden brown on both sides. Place on broiling rack. Saute mushrooms in remaining butter until golden. Put ham over cutlets, spoon mushrooms on top and add rest of cheese. Broil about 4 inches from heat until cheese is melted and bubbly. Serve at once with saffron rice which comes packaged. The sliced zucchini is sauteed in olive oil, salt, garlic powder and pepper during browning. Crush parsley over top. Serve hot.

Spring Dandelion Salad

One quart broken dandelion greens (if these are unavailable, use tender young mustard greens or spinach). 1 qt. broken romaine; ½ cup olive oil; 2 T. chianti; ¼ cup garlic red wine vinegar; 1 t. hot mustard; garlic croutons; ¼ cup grated Parmesan. Serves 6-8.

Combine greens in large olive wood salad bowl. Mix next 4 items in small jar. Shake well and add to greens; toss lightly and sprinkle with croutons and cheese over top to serve. Have well chilled and mixed at last moment.

Wine Foam Custard

This favorite Italian dessert is known as Zabaglione.

Eight egg yolks; 8 T. sugar; pinch salt; 1 cup Marsala wine; lady fingers. Serves 6-8.

Beat egg yolks in top of double boiler until light and lemon colored. Beat in sugar and salt. Place over hot water. Slowly add wine, beating constantly with rotary or electric mixer. Continue beating until it thickens and almost reaches boiling point but do not boil. Serve at once in sherbet glasses with lady fingers.

If the dessert seems too rich with the rest of the meal, fresh fruit and cheese is the usual Italian topper-off, such as pears, grapes, nectarines and Bel Paese, Gongonzola or Provolone cheese. This dinner is very pleasant and efficiently carried out if served buffet, with guests seated at card tables with checkered tablecloths, wine bottles as candleholders and wicker baskets for bread.

We may live without poetry, music and art;
We may live without conscience and live without heart;
We may live without friends; we may live without books;
But civilized man can not live without cooks.
He may live without books,
what is knowledge but grieving?
He may live without hope, what is hope but deceiving?
He may live without love, what is passion but pining?
But where is the man that can live without dining?

REPORTS FROM RLS

By Chandler Meloy

"The Rainmaker" will be the second feature of the Stevenson Players this Friday and Saturday evening. Starting time is 8:15 p.m. and the public is invited to attend at no charge. It will be held in John Lyon Reid Hall.

Featured players include Richard Johnson, Peter Kessler, Henry Bugbee, Buck Ford, Mark Farber and John Cann, along with a "guest" performer from Santa Catalina School, Miss Suzanne Sanders. The director is Mrs. Rosemary Garrison.

Speakers This Saturday In Final Meet

The final speech contest for the season that is sponsored by the Pacific Forensic League will be held this Saturday at M.P.C. at 8:30 a.m. The school has entered a full slate of 40 competitors in the annual championship tournament where they took second last year. Events include Impromptu, Oratory and several Interp events such as Drama and Humor. Event captains for this contest include: Joel Harris, Geoff Haynes, Bruce Decker, Mike Greene, Gary Novak, Jim Booth and Pete Cowden. Gary Bechtel is team manager, with William Kondrat as President of the sponsoring group, the Winston Churchill Forensic Club.

Highlights from last week's sporting news includes a win by the golf team over previously unbeaten St. Francis, a three-way victory by the Varsity and JV track teams, and an R.L.S. sweep of Pacific Grove in Varsity and JV tennis.

The golf team, with George Kelley carding an 82, defeated the top rated St. Francis team by 17-10. Medalist honors went to Bryon Instraker who is nationally rated, with a 79. Others on the Stevenson team, in order of their scoring, included Jack Booth with an 83, Bill Hanadt 85, Alan Yeates with an 86, Kurt Wolf taking an 87 and Jerry Dividian, the sixth man, at 89. The game was played on the Pebble Beach course.

The track team was also successful in defeating York and Menlo by 63-55-40 in the varsity, and dominating the JV's as they swept to a 94-28-26 victory. Again Sam Perkins was outstanding as he took two firsts for the JV's and led the 440 relay to a sensational victory. Some outstanding performances included a one-two-three win in the two-mile as Mark Stevenson just nosed out Tom Brown, with Don Hicok pressing. (When you see two-milers sprinting that last 200 you are really seeing a race). First places in varsity went to Mark Farber in the 880, Steve Russell in the mile, Mike Eberley in both the high jump and Pole Vault, Bill Kondrat in the shot and Tim Talbot in the Disc. Jeff Erlandson was just nosed out in the Long Jump as Stevenson dominated the field events and distance runs.

The JV's really had some big wins. Joe Todd took the two mile, Brent Lloyd the low hurdles in a falling finish, Ralph Keeley in the mile, a double win by Steve Laney in the high jump and pole vault, plus Rick Johnson taking a pair in the Disc and Shot. Newcomer Dave Erlich had a sensational quarter-mile to bring home a victory for the mile relay team that was trailing by 15 yards.

Finally the tennis teams had a great day as they swept P.G., taking the varsity 9-0 with the JV's winning 5-1. Varsity players who won their matches included John Clancy, Eric Haas, Steve Dart, Geoff Haynes, Ken Drummond, Jim Doyle, plus Ed Scott and Tom Daggett in the doubles. JV's had winners with Steve Field, Mike Lang, Jeff Klien, Peter Scott with Steve Simmons dropping a close match 8-6.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SUNDAY SERMON

"Reality" is the subject of the Lesson Sermon to be read in all Christian Science churches this Sunday.

The Golden Text which sets the theme for this Bible lesson is from Isaiah: "Since the beginning of the world men have not heard, nor perceived by the ear, neither hath the eye seen, O God, beside thee, what he hath prepared for him that waiteth for him."

Pianist Gary Graffman.

Noted Pianist In Recital At Sunset Saturday Night

Gary Grafman is slated for next Saturday's concert at Carmel's Sunset Auditorium, the fifth in the current season's series presented by the Carmel Music Society. The performance is scheduled as usual for 8:30.

Mr. Graffman has occasioned considerable notice from the press during the past few years and last December 29th, was the subject of a half page article in the music section of TIME, which reported him as a musician able to challenge Europe's best in the classical and early romantic repertory.

He has recorded with America's six leading orchestras and his annual tours are worldwide.

Mr. Graffman has planned a program to include the Sonata in G Major by Haydn, the Sonata in A-flat Major by Beethoven, the Variations on a Theme of Paganini by Brahms, the Elegie (Op. 3), No. 1) of Rachmaninoff as well as two Preludes, and the Fantasy in C major ("The Wanderer) of Schubert.

Although the Carmel Music Society series is largely sold out by subscription, there may be a few tickets available at the door.

Masters Concert

The following major works will be featured on the Masters Concert during the week of March 28, over KMBY-FM (96.9 m.c.) at 8 p.m.

Thursday, March 28: 8 p.m., Harold in Italy, Opus 16, Berlioz; A Hero's Life, R. Strauss.

Friday, March 29: 8 p.m., Pictures at an Exhibition, Moussorgsky, Scheherezade, Opus 35, Rimsky-Korsakoff.

PHOTOGRAPHY SHOW HELD OVER

The Friends of Photography exhibition at Sunset Center of work by students of the Chicago Institute of Design and the University of New Mexico has been extended through the 29th. The gallery is open daily except Mondays from one until four.

Museum Offers Art Lectures

Beginning today at 4 p.m. and every Thursday thereafter for approximately two months, lectures on Art History will be given at the Carmel Museum of Art as background training for those people interested in becoming Volunteers of the Museum or for anyone else who is interested. There will be no charge. The museum is on Dolores, between Ocean and Seventh.

The course will be given by Mrs. Betty Lochrie Hoag, Research Director of the museum. Guests lecturers will be invited including our Curator, Kent Seavey; Dr. Joseph A. Baird, Jr. of the University of California at Davis; Mr. Sterling Holloway (actor and reknowned collector and authority on American painting); Mr. Lewis Ferbache (authority on early California painting); Mr. Ian Snowden (ibid); Dr. Robert Hass (ibid) of ULCA, Dr. Richard K. Brown of the Kimberly Art Foundation, Fort Worth, Texas; and Mrs. Elizabeth Lochrie (Montana artist, authority on Western Frontier Art.

Lectures will be one hour long, followed by seminar-discussions. Colored slides of paintings will be shown. The course will start with the background, history of European Art from 1800 to the present. It will continue with a history of American Art, then California Art, and lead to a study of painting on the Monterey Peninsula. Volunteers are badly needed to perform a great variety of needed duties.

The first lecture will be on Realism and Romanticism. (It is suggested that anyone interested will benefit by attending the current show on Realism at the Palace of the Legion of Honor in San Francisco before March 30. Their catalogue is excellent to have, but this is not a requisitie!)

International Festival

Exotic food, colorful national costumes and unique entertainment will all be features of the annual student-sponsored Monterey Peninsula College event: the International Relations Club's gala food festival.

The festival is scheduled for Saturday, April 6, 7 p.m. at the MPC Student Union.

Food, prepared by the college's many international students, will consist of national dishes from Indonesia, Iran, Israel, Japan, Korea, Lebanon, Mexico, the Philippines Switzerland, Thailand, Vietnam, Yugoslavia, China, Greece, Costa Rica and other countries.

OBITUARIES

Robert C. Nagler, honored as one of the early directors of the Monterey County Symphony last December, died last week. He was concertmaster for the first Bach Festival in 1935. Violinist and conductor for several groups from the early thirties to 1954, he worked with Dene Denny and Hazel Watrous in concert programs sponsored by the Carmel Music Society.

neglected theatre beneath the Forest Theatre stage.

Stephen's interpretation of poetry by Frost, Benet, Shaw, Dos Passos, Wolfe, Anderson, Eliot, and Simon were not all exactly as this reviewer pictured, but isn't poetry individualistic? His excerpts from "Julius Ceasar," "Richard II," "Henry V," "MacBeth," "Othello," and "Hamlet" were capably done and spoke well of Welles' ability. Steve's reading of Henry V was his most outstanding from the Shakespeare collection.

"Don Juan in Hell" and "This is the Man" were especially well interpreted during the second half of a highly cultural evening.

TWO CARMEL POINT "SPECIALS": Only $49,500 for either of these imaginatively-planned two-bedroom homes. Suitable for full-time or part-time occupancy and situated in this preferred area, the two listings offer the purchaser a pleasing choice:

No. 1. English atmosphere suggested by the pitched roof, timbered trim and multi-paned windows of this Comstock-constructed residence built of long-lasting materials. Living room features a high-raftered ceiling, hearth flanked by bookshelves, stereo wiring and driftwood finish; spacious dining area; delightful peasant-type kitchen with ceramic tile, electric equipment including a separate grill; master bedroom with open ceiling, louvered doors and adjoining luxury bath; den-bedroom with bookshelves; powder room and special laundry area. Fenced rear garden for pet or privacy.

No. 2. Courtyard Entry where sunshine prevails is but one of the many ingenious details of this "enchanted cottage" with its rough stone facade and unusual landscaping. The high vaulted ceiling in living room and master bedroom denotes individuality of design. A separate dining room with courtyard outlook; an efficient, equipped kitchen; two attractive baths combine to make this a most desirable property. Possibility of developing attic area into bedroom or study.

PICTURESQUE POINT LOBOS VIEW from this "Home with a Personality". Spacious in feeling (but not too large for a couple), the living level comprises a large living room, a compact dining room, master bedroom with fireplace and adjoining sewing room or study, separate bedroom, another bath and downstairs bedroom and bath. Charming protected patio for entertaining. Make an offer on the listing price of $65,000.

Lines From Lois

GREEN IS THE COLOR
OF MY TRUE LOVE'S HAIR
And as all good and faithful readers of these "Lines" know, my true love is the Monterey Peninsula. This is a splendid time of year around here, and the predominant green has a thousand different shades — lovely in the early morning on meadows and hills; golden greens in the mid-day sun; all dark, dark green as the valley hills and oak trees suddenly go all oriental in the last of the light.

YOU COULD HAVE GREEN ALL YEAR
from every window in your house if you owned our luxurious Palos Verdes stone house overlooking the Carmel Valley Golf and Country Club. Even the elegant master bathroom has its view into an enclosed garden corner. If you have wanted a two-bedroom house with all the living areas oversize, this is it. Priced at $99,500, and located in lovely Rancho Canada.

THE RAIN IN SPAIN
reports our Fran Mauer, does NOT stay mainly in the plain — it covers every part of the country, as well as Portugal. Even so, our Fran came back from her golfing vacation with not one, but TWO trophies. Must be the good training she has at MPCC. She has a marvelous house to show you out there right now — the one we featured in the current issue of S.F. Magazine. Check your copy or phone for an appointment to see a really lovely home at the Hollywood and Vine of golf activity for only $69,500.

SOME WONDERFUL LOTS IN PEBBLE BEACH
right now also. Two at $35,000 each have splendid ocean views, and we have a very nice building site on Hermitage for only $11,000. Phone and we'll give you directions if you want to drive by.

FLORENCE HARPER AND PHIL DAVIS are now settled in their new Del Mesa homes, and we wish for them that only happiness and good health cross their threshholds, and that peace will dwell kindly in all their rooms.

ABOUT OUR SPRING LOT SAMPLER
It's ready to go to the printer next week. Still time through this weekend to get your lot listed with us so that it can be included. Only a very few lots from last year's sampler are still unsold.

IT'S FOR THE BIRDS
and the bees and the people — the patio of a charming, very well built home in that nice area on Hatton Road North of Ocean Avenue. Just enough beautiful trees and blooming things to attract the feathered friends outside, and inside, an immaculate 2-bedroom home with a dining room, corner fireplace, hardwood floors, central heat, for only $39,500. There's a big basement too, you hobby fans and the garage was built with the addition of another story in mind.

HAD MY FIRST CUP OF COFFEE
the other morning by moonlight. Opened the drapes to see how the day was coming in and if it had stopped raining; and instead of the blackness of the previous mornings found a shiny silver world illuminated by an enormous (if somewhat lopsided) moon. I thought of our two ocean-front listings, especially the one with the guest house or studio perched right down on the racks where the tidepools are so interesting . . . and the beautiful home on more than two acres of ocean front near Rocky Point Restaurant — I'll bet the moonlight had an indescribable beauty on the fantastic surf which we get at this time of year in the early morning. You really should see these properties if you're fortunate enough to be in the hundred thousand dollar bracket.

WE SOLD
a great deal of property since January, ranging in price from $1,750 to well over a half-million dollars. Perhaps we could sell yours, too, while you're waiting around for the market to pick up?
